FERTILIZERS ARE PLANT FOOD CARRIERS

Nitrogen, referred to as Ammonia, is directly associated with the formation of leaves and stems in plants, promoting a quick and vigorous growth which is accomplished by a deep, rich green color of foliage—a sign of health and activity.

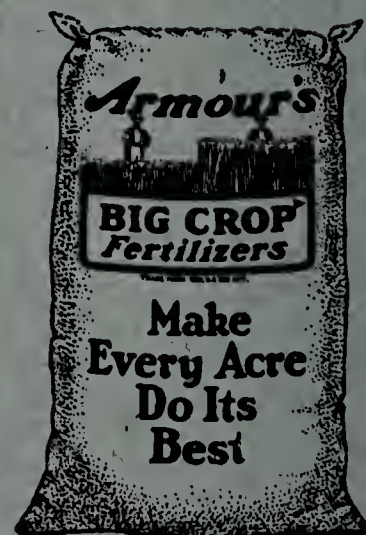

Phosphorus, known as Acid Phosphate or Phosphoric Acid, hastens germination and favors rapid development of young seedlings, increasing the root growth, thus giving the young plant a good start. The formation of grain and fruit begins sooner when applications of soluble phosphorus are freely made. Phosphorus fills out the grain and fruit, increasing the proportion of grain to straw.

Potassium, commonly called potash, has a marked influence upon the development of leaves and stems. When potash is lacking, stems are apt to be weak and brittle. Potash enables the plant to produce sugar and starch, and helps to plump and fill the grain. It is also necessary in developing the fleshy parts of fruit.

NOVELTIES 1936

CABBAGE — “RESISTANT DETROIT”

This is a new “Yellows” resistant type of Golden Acre Cabbage. It should prove satisfactory in localities where the Yellows is prevalent. This variety produces compact plants and round solid heads. It matures only a few days later than the earliest strains of Golden Acre.

CELERY — “NON-BOLTING GOLDEN PLUME”

This variety is similar to the regular strain of Golden Plume or Wonderful, except that the tops are darker and it matures a little later. The plants are compact and the hearts are full and of good length, stems are broad and thick. It bleaches readily to a clear creamy white. It is recommended for early planting, when weather conditions cause the ordinary strain to bolt to seed. It is not so resistant to Fusarium Yellows as Golden Plume.

CELERY — “CRISPHEART”

This is a new early maturing green celery of good quality. The stems are thick and free from strings, the flavor rich, and the color is deep cream when blanched.

PARSLEY — “PARAMOUNT”

A new and improved triple-curved variety of Parsley. An unusually dark green in color and tightly curled leaves makes the Paramount an ideal Parsley for both Home and Market Gardens.

RADISH — “NEW COMET”

A new variety that is a cross between Scarlet Globe and Sparkler. It is ball shaped, bright scarlet color with a very thin tap root. It is very uniform, growing to fair size and remains crisp and solid long after other varieties have become pitty.
